

Polish Resistance (AK) Foundation Scholarship Application

The Polish Resistance (AK) Foundation Scholarship was established to promote and encourage undergraduate study and research in Polish History, the history of the Polish Underground State, and/or the Polish Home Army. The scholarship is awarded to undergraduate students currently enrolled in Loyola University Chicago and is awarded by the university through the Department of History. To be considered for the scholarship, students must complete: 1) the application below; 2) a letter of support from the supervising faculty member or course instructor (this is the applicant's responsibility to procure); 3) official LUC transcript. The application must be submitted by 31 March 2020. It may be submitted via email to (msuszko@luc.edu) as a Word Document or pdf or as a hard copy to Dr. Marek Suszko, Senior Lecturer, Department of History, Crown Center 5th Floor, Loyola University Chicago, 1032 W. Sheridan Road, Chicago, IL 60660.

Name _____ E-mail _____

Social Security Number _____

Local Address _____

Permanent Address _____

Cell phone _____ Home phone _____

Will the project be an independent study? If so, what Loyola University Chicago faculty member will be your supervisor? Please include a statement of support from the supervisor.

Will the project be completed in an authorized course? If so, please include a statement of approval from the instructor.

Please include a 500-1,000 word a description of the proposed project of study that includes: 1) title, 2) description of the topic and how it relates to some aspect of Polish History, the history of the Polish Underground State, and/or the Polish Home Army during World War II, 3) a paragraph on previous scholarship on the topic, 4) a paragraph on the primary sources and their location, and 5) bibliography.

Signature _____