Summer School

- Registration for Loyola Summer 2013 courses begins Monday, February 11th.
- Check LOCUS for your enrollment appointment time.
- Students can take up to 4 classes over the summer– two per summer session.
- If you are thinking of taking summer classes at another University, please remember the following:
  1) You need to get approval to take courses elsewhere before you ever take the course(s).
  2) Core courses may not be taken over the summer at another school.
  3) Major/Minor course approvals need to first be approved by the appropriate academic department and then by your academic advisor. General elective courses can be approved by your academic advisor.
  4) If the course is offered at Loyola in the summer, students are not eligible to take the course at another school.

♦ Interested in studying abroad this summer? Stop by the Summer Study Abroad Fair, Feb. 20th from 11am-2pm on the 4th floor of the IC. More info can be found on the website.

How to get out of a February Funk:

♦ Take a trip down to Chinatown. Have some dim sum, browse the local shops, and stay for the Chinese New Year parade at 1pm on Feb 17th.

♦ Need some beauty on these gray days? Beginning Feb 14th, the Art Institute offers free admission to Illinois residents from 5-8pm. The Picasso and Chicago exhibit opens Feb 20th!

♦ Bundle up and take your hungry self to eat your way through Andersonville. Chicago Magazine offers some recommendations of can’t miss spots.

♦ Spring for a ticket to see Ladysmith Black Mambazo at Old Town School of Folk Music. The group has been making music together for 50+ years and they were recently nominated for a Grammy!

Trivia Time!

Unfortunately, no one correctly guessed the architect who designed the house this is modeled after. It’s none other than Frank Lloyd Wright!

New Question:
What do Chicagoans fondly refer to their “neighbors to the north” in Wisconsin as?
