VERMONT RESIDENTS: Any person who knowingly presents a false or fraudulent claim for payment of a loss or knowingly makes a false statement in an application for insurance may be guilty of a criminal offense under state law.

VIRGINIA RESIDENTS: Any person who knowingly and with intent to injure, defraud, or deceive any insurance company or other person, or knowing that he is facilitating commission of a fraud, submits incomplete, false, fraudulent, deceptive or misleading facts or information when filing a statement of claim for payment of a loss or benefit may have violated state law, is guilty of a crime, and may be prosecuted and punished under state law. Penalties may include fines, civil damages and criminal penalties, including confinement in prison. In addition, an insurer may deny insurance benefits if false information materially related to a claim was provided by the applicant or if the applicant conceals, for the purpose of misleading, information concerning any fact material thereto.

WASHINGTON RESIDENTS: Any person who knowingly provides false, incomplete, or misleading information to an insurance company for the purpose of defrauding the company commits a crime. Penalties include imprisonment, fines, and denial of insurance benefits.
Prudential is pleased to provide Loyola University with administrative services for absence and short term disability benefits.

This guide explains the steps to follow when you are absent from work because of leave or disability. Please detach the Authorization Card and keep the guide for future reference.

When should I report an absence or disability?

First, report your absence for leave or disability to Faculty Administration and/or your supervisor and Loyola’s Human Resources Department, as soon as possible so they can plan for your absence. You need not discuss private health issues when providing this information. Then report it to Prudential when:

- You will be absent for more than three consecutive days and are under a physician’s care.
- You are hospitalized for any amount of time.
- You are caring for an ill or injured qualified family member (spouse, parent, or dependent child).
- You are pregnant or are absent from work due to pregnancy complications.
- You will be absent periodically due to a chronic or permanent disabling condition of your own or a qualified family member.
- You are caring for a newborn child, recently adopted child, or new foster child.
- You are absent due to other reasons defined by state regulations.
- You are absent due to a lost-time, work-related injury—after first reporting it to your supervisor and Loyola’s Human Resources Department.

Report an absence to Prudential for:

- Short Term Disability (STD)
- Family Medical Leave (FML)
- Long Term (LTD)
- Lost-time, work-related injury—after first reporting it to your supervisor

How can I report an absence or disability?

Timely reporting of your leave of absence is critical to the continuation of your benefits and pay. If you expect to be out of work for more than three consecutive days, you must report your leave of absence to Prudential.

To report an absence or disability you can either:

1. Call 877-FOR-PRU1 (877-367-7781) anytime. You can speak to one of our absence professionals or follow the prompts to record your absence or disability information.

2. Go to www.prudential.com/luc and click on “Family & Medical Leave of Absence”. Log in and click on “Report an Absence” and follow the instructions. There, you can input your information and download any forms you may need.

Have this information ready

Please have the following information ready:

- Company Name Loyola University Chicago
- Company control number #51765
- Employee ID or Social Security Number
- Reason for your absence
- First date absent
- Work schedule
- Date you expect to return to work
- If your absence is related to illness or injury, name, fax, and telephone number of the treating physician
- If caring for a qualified family member, their relation to you.

What you can expect

To process your claim for absence and disability, Prudential needs statements from you, your doctor, and Loyola University Chicago. When you speak with a Prudential specialist, they will obtain your information. Prudential will assist with gathering medical information from your doctor when your claim is related to disability. Loyola University Chicago will provide your employer information. A decision will be made after we review this information. If you have Short Term Disability (STD) and Long Term Disability (LTD) coverage with Prudential, you do not have to submit an LTD claim.
When should I contact Prudential again?

Notify us, by phone or online, if you:
- Have updated medical and leave information
- Are unable to return to work on the planned date (you must also notify your manager and Human Resources Department)
- Are returning or have returned to work
- Want to report your pregnancy or delivery date
- Are absent from work due to an intermittent leave. Each intermittent leave of absence must be reported to Prudential and your manager.
- Need forms

No matter what type of leave you are on, frequent and open communication between you and Prudential is critical. Any changes to your leave status should be reported to Prudential immediately (including if you leave goes from intermittent to continuous and vice versa). If you need to extend your leave, it must be approved by Prudential and will require the submission of additional medical information.

Authorization for Release of Information to The Prudential Insurance Company of America

This authorization is intended to comply with the HIPAA Privacy Rule.

I authorize any health plan, physician, health care professional, hospital, clinic, laboratory, pharmacy, medical facility, or other health care provider that has provided treatment, payment, or services to me or on my behalf (“my providers”) to disclose my entire medical record and any other health information concerning me to The Prudential Insurance Company of America (Prudential) and its agents, employees, and representatives. This includes information on the diagnosis or treatment of Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV) infection and sexually transmitted diseases. This also includes information on the diagnosis and treatment of mental illness and the use of alcohol, drugs, and tobacco, but excludes psychotherapy notes...

By my signature below, I acknowledge that any agreements I have made to restrict my protected health information do not apply to this authorization and I instruct my providers to release and disclose my entire medical record without restriction. This information is to be disclosed under this authorization so that Prudential may: 1) administer claims and determine or fulfill responsibility for coverage and provision of benefits; 2) obtain reinsurance; 3) administer coverage; and 4) conduct other legally permissible activities that relate to any coverage I have or have applied for with Prudential.

This authorization shall remain in force for 24 months following the date of my signature below, while the coverage is in force, except to the extent that state law imposes a shorter duration. A copy of this authorization is as valid as the original. I understand that I have the right to revoke this authorization in writing, at any time, by sending a written request for revocation to Prudential at: P.O. Box 13480, Philadelphia, PA 19176. I understand that a revocation is not effective to the extent that any of my providers have relied on this authorization to the extent that Prudential has a legal right to contest a claim under an insurance policy or to contest the policy itself. I understand that any information that is disclosed pursuant to this authorization may be redisclosed and not covered by federal rules governing privacy and confidentiality of health information.

I understand that if I refuse to sign this authorization to release the entire medical record, Prudential may not be able to process my claim for benefits and may not be able to make any benefit payments. I understand that I have the right to receive a copy of this authorization.

The statements made by me on this claim are true and complete.
