International News

“Our mission is to educate diverse, talented students to be responsible leaders in a rapidly changing, interdependent world, to prepare graduates who will be ethical advocates for justice and the rule of law...” (School of Law Mission Statement)

Upcoming Events:

Sept 25

Wing-Tat Lee Lecture

2008-2009 LONDON COMPARATIVE ADVOCACY PROGRAM

Dec. 27-Jan. 10, 2009

Study Law Abroad

Beijing, China

May 23 thru June 29, 2009

Rome, Italy

June 22 thru July 17, 2009

For more information go to: http://www.luc.edu/law/academics/special/studyabroad.html

---

Renowned Jurist to Deliver the Wing-Tat Lee Lecture

The annual Wing-Tat Lee Lecture in International and Comparative Law will be delivered by Richard Goldstone on Thursday, September 25 at 5 p.m. in Kasbeer Hall. His topic will be “The Future of International Criminal Justice.”

Richard J. Goldstone has served as a Justice of the Constitutional Court of South Africa, and as the chief prosecutor of the United Nations International Criminal Tribunals for the former Yugoslavia and for Rwanda.

He has taught at New York University, Georgetown University Law Center, Harvard, and Fordham Law Schools. Among the many awards he has received are the Richard E. Neustadt Award from the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University in May 2007, and the World Peace through Law Award from the Whitney Harris Institute for Global Legal Studies at International Law at Washington University in St. Louis in January 2007. He is co-chair of the Human Rights Institute of the International Bar Association.

Goldstone is the author of numerous articles on international humanitarian law. He has recently written about the challenge to individual human rights posed by counter-terror measures, in R. A. Wilson, ed., Human Rights in the ‘War on Terror’.

---

Visiting Professors in International and Comparative Law

Catherine T. Dwyer is a visiting professor at Loyola during the current academic year. In the fall semester she is teaching European Union Law and The Rule of Law in Developing Legal Systems. In spring 2009 she will teach Comparative Company Law and Securities Regulation. She holds a J.D. from Boston University and an M.B.A. from Columbia; she also received an LL.M. in European Business Law, With Honors, from the Pallas Consortium. She was Vice President of Corporate Development at Automatic Data Processing, and Vice President and General Counsel of The BISYS Group. She has been a visiting professor in the Ukraine, China, Canada and Lithuania, as well as a Fulbright Professor in Kyrgyzstan. She has undertaken rule of law and education reform projects in the past decade in Georgia, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Lithuania, Ukraine, Uzbekistan and Jordan.

Matthew Herder holds LL.B. and LL.M. degrees from Dalhousie University in Canada, and he recently earned a Master of Science in Law (J.S.M.) degree from Stanford University’s Program in International Legal Studies. He was a law clerk at the Federal Court of Canada and worked in the intellectual property litigation group at a law firm in Toronto. He has written a book chapter for the OECD on intellectual property issues’ impact on any future bioeconomy, as well as a study of technology transfer practices with respect to genetic inventions at Canadian and U.S. academic institutions. He is teaching bioethics and intellectual property.
Speaker on International Opportunities

On Thursday, September 25 at 4 p.m (an hour before the Wing-Tat Lee Lecture), Professor Matthew Wilson of Temple University School of Law will speak in room 207 on “Distinguishing Yourself through International Law Opportunities.” Professor Wilson is the director of Temple’s campus in Tokyo. Prior to teaching law school, he had extensive experience working in Japan and in Saipan (in the U.S. Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands). His talk is being presented through the Career Services Office.

International Law Review

Donald Cole (pictured at the right) is the new editor-in-chief of the International Law Review. Also serving on the Editorial Board are Christina Cotter, Caroline Kwak, Thomas D’Amore, Bethany Legare and Katherine Staba.

International Law Society

The officers of the International Law Society for 2008-09 are: Samantha Martin, President; Susie Shin, Vice President; Andrew Thomas, Secretary and Webmaster; Lauren Sanchez-Murphy, Treasurer; and Jeanine Oury and Kristen Bielke, Social Chairs. The Society held its first meeting of the year on September 16, followed by a social gathering at Streeter’s.

Jessup Team

The student team which will represent Loyola in this year’s Philip C. Jessup International Law Moot Court Competition consists of (from left to right in the photo) James Weiler, Elizabeth Chase, Lindsey Shelp, Sameena Mohammed, and Matthew Adair. The competition will be held in the spring semester.

Russian Visit to Business Law Center

A group of Russian lawyers recently toured the Business Law Center Clinic to learn more about the U.S. legal profession and Loyola’s pro bono legal service and its clinics, so that they can develop the knowledge and skills necessary to implement similar programs in Russia. The visit was arranged by the Rule of Law Initiative of the American Bar Association. Professor Joseph Stone, the Randy L. and Melvin B. Berlin Clinical Professor of Business Law and director of the clinic, welcomed the visitors.

Antitrust Institute Research Fellow

Femi Alese joins the Institute for Consumer Antitrust Studies as a research fellow for the 2008-09 academic year. Alese is a lecturer at London Metropolitan University. He obtained law degrees from Lund University (Sweden) and King’s College, London; he also holds a degree in Modular Studies from Guildhall University, London. He is a solicitor of the Supreme Court of England and Wales, as well as member of the New York State bar. He is the author of Federal Antitrust and EC Competition Law Analysis (Ashgate, 2008). He practiced as a competition lawyer in London and was a case office at the Office of Fair Trading.

International Law Committee Directory

Donald Cole, Editor-in-Chief, International Law Review, 1342, 312-915-7490, jcesena@luc.edu
Professor Catherine Dwyer, 1425, 312-915-6346
Jean Gasparo, Assistant Dean Student Services, 1449, 312-915-7886, jgasparo@luc.edu
Professor Thomas Haney, Chair, International Law Committee, 1325, 312-915-7159, thaney@luc.edu
Samantha Martin, President, International Law Society, smartin6@luc.edu
Professor Margaret Moses, 1335, 312-915-6430, mmoses@luc.edu
Christine Nemes, Admin. Assistant, 1341, 312-915-8544, cnemes@luc.edu
Professor Stacey Platt, 16E, 312-57931, splatt@luc.edu
Professor Anne-Marie Rhodes, 1379, 312-915-7135, arhodes@luc.edu