Career Strategies Series
Career readiness is the hidden skill set that helps students, graduates, and alumni develop employment seeking competencies that better prepare them for the competitive nature of the job search. These skills help position individuals for meaningful career outcomes. Empowering individuals to take ownership of their career developmental paths helps a person connect passion to purpose. This combination builds confidence, forward-thinking abilities, growth traits, and a “successful” (positive) attitude. Not only that, but it helps an individual distinguish the difference between finding a “job” vs. finding a “career” (fulfilling employment).
MAKE YOUR PITCH

First impressions really do matter. Sure, you know that you need to look professional, but what will you say? Use this space to write a 30-second “elevator pitch” that conveys your value to employers—and why they should hire you for the position. Make sure to connect your passion to purpose!

WHAT IS YOUR CAREER READINESS IQ?

Sit down with a Business Career Services professional and assess how prepared you are to succeed.
