Ignatian Pilgrimage in Spain  Summer Global Faculty-Led
June 26th - July 6th, 2016

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:
This is a Spanish literature course, cross-listed with Catholic Studies and offered as a Literature in Translation course. Its primary goal is to investigate the major interactions between literary expression and its cultural context. Students will be immersed in an in-depth study of the history, spirituality, and theological vision of the founder of the Society of Jesus, Ignatius of Loyola (1491-1556). Designed as an academic “pilgrimage,” students will have an opportunity to study the legacy of St. Ignatius by reading and analyzing the texts he wrote and by following in his footsteps along the route of his early life in Spain: Bilbao, Azpeitia (Loyola), Arántzazu, Javier, Pamplona, Montserrat, Manresa and Barcelona.

Lectures will be on site at the various locations, and the class will travel together as pilgrims to our various destinations. Finally, students will have the opportunity to walk as pilgrims, including a 6-hour pilgrimage walk from Montserrat to Manresa, near Barcelona.
