

In addition to a bar examination, there are character, fitness, and other qualifications for admission to the bar in every U.S. jurisdiction. Applicants are encouraged to determine the requirements for any jurisdiction in which they intend to seek admission by contacting the jurisdiction. Addresses for all relevant agencies are available through the National Conference of Bar Examiners.

SCHOOL OF LAW

The following questions require a "yes" or "no" response. An affirmative response will not necessarily prejudice your admission to Loyola or to the bar of a U.S. jurisdiction. If you answer "yes" to any question, you must provide a detailed written explanation of the circumstances. If you are unsure whether to answer "yes" to any question, we recommend answering "yes" and fully disclosing all incidents. Failure to answer these questions completely and with candor may result in the revocation of an offer of admission to Loyola or other action under Loyola's Code of Conduct.

Applications for admission to the bar of a state or other jurisdiction usually require the disclosure of more information than is required by this application. If a disclosure in your bar application(s) differs materially from a disclosure required by this application for admission, it may result in denial of your admission to the bar. You should therefore ensure that your disclosures in this application are as complete and accurate as possible.
