Student Academic Services (SAS) focuses on the overall success of Loyola students. Our purpose is to provide opportunities for students to learn more about themselves and reflect on how they fit into our global society. The SAS unit plays an integral role in preparing people to lead extraordinary lives that are grounded in the pursuit of knowledge, justice, and faith. We help students uncover their unique talents so they can chart new paths that benefit our communities.

In 2016, three Loyola undergraduates or recent alumni earned prestigious National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowships, and two more earned Fulbright Awards for work in Greece and Mexico.

Services for Students with Disabilities (SSWD) supports students with documented disabilities by creating and fostering an accessible learning environment. Aligned with the Student Academic Services’ mission, SSWD is committed to supporting students to successfully transition throughout their Loyola experience.

The connection continues with Second-Year Experience (SYE) initiatives like the Majors Fair and Halfway to Graduation celebration. We support second-year students as they develop a better understanding of themselves, explore their directions, and make commitments both in and outside the classroom. Our outreach programs offer students leadership and mentoring opportunities with youth from around Chicago.

Located in the Sullivan Center, the Student Services Hub provides students and visitors with immediate help, answers, and direction on what to do, or where to go. Whether you are seeking financial advice, a college transcript, or other specific services, the Hub is a great place to start your search.

You will be assigned an academic advisor at the beginning of freshman year to help with orientation, individual appointments, group workshops, and specialized courses. You will get to know your advisor through UNIV 101: the First Year Seminar, where you’ll learn about choosing a major, enrolling in courses, completing a four-year academic plan, and navigating your Loyola Experience.

If you are a transfer student, you’ll participate in UNIV 201, a course designed specifically for transfer students. You’ll also meet with an academic advisor in your school or college.

Are you looking to connect with others who are passionate about the same things you are? Students in learning communities live in the same residence hall, take courses together, and participate in group activities. Learning communities are a great way to make friends, get to know faculty, feel more engaged, and do better academically.

The Center for Tutoring and Academic Excellence (CTAE) provides academic support to students registered for non-writing courses at Loyola University Chicago. Tutoring, Academic Coaching, Supplemental Instruction, and Academic Workshops are provided for free. Tutoring is offered at LSC, WTC, and Maywood. All Academic Support begins the second week of classes.

Maximize your academic success by attending one of the workshops offered each semester. Topics include time management, study techniques, four-year graduation planning, study abroad, and choosing your major.

UNIV 224, the Career and Life Planning Seminar, prepares you to make career-related decisions. The course aims to improve self awareness to help you assess and achieve your career and life goals.

SEE WHERE YOU STAND

The Pre-Health Professions Advisory Committee process guides, advises, and evaluates Loyola students and alumni/ae when applying to health professional schools. Many health professional schools place great value on these evaluations.
OUR MISSION

We are Chicago’s Jesuit, Catholic University—a diverse community seeking God in all things and working to expand knowledge in the service of humanity through learning, justice, and faith.
