COMMUNITY AND CONVENIENCE
By living on campus, you’ll have the opportunity to experience what many Loyola graduates reflect on as one of their favorite memories from college—living in the residence halls. You’ll have easy access to the wide variety of campus resources, from the library to your academic advisor. Living on campus makes it that much easier to meet new people, get involved, and focus on your classes.

FIRST-YEAR TRANSITION
Getting involved in campus and city activities will help you feel at home as a loyalo from the start. We encourage you to take advantage of the numerous University-planned events on campus. Or, you may choose to explore Chicago by attending a sports event, theatre or street festival, or by visiting a museum with classmates. You can also help others in need through various community service projects. Experience the values, which follow the Jesuit model of developing the whole person, will broaden your collegiate education beyond what you learn in the classroom.

Loyola’s Residence Halls are home to more than 4,800 residential students.

ROOM AND BOARD RATES

First-year transition

RESIDENCY REQUIREMENTS
LUC admits students without regard to their race, color, sex, age, national or ethnic origin, religion, sexual orientation, ancestry, college attendance status, marital status, gender identity, or any other protected status. Otherwise qualified persons are not subject to discrimination on the basis of disability. Loyola is an equal opportunity educator and employer.

Providing a residential community supported by the Department of Residence Life, which works collaboratively with faculty, staff, and other students to provide programs, services, and activities that promote intellectual, social, spiritual, and physical growth.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY CHICAGO
Admits students without regard to their race, color, sex, age, national or ethnic origin, religion, sexual orientation, ancestry, college attendance status, marital status, gender identity, or any other protected status. Otherwise qualified persons are not subject to discrimination on the basis of disability.

Loyola University Chicago admits students without regard to their race, color, sex, age, national or ethnic origin, religion, sexual orientation, ancestry, college attendance status, marital status, gender identity, or any other protected status.

Room and board rates

Research shows that students living on campus report a smoother adjustment to the college experience, become involved in organizations, participate in sponsored events, and are more satisfied with their college experience overall.
LEARNING COMMUNITIES
LUC.edu/learningcommunity

Participating in a Learning Community provides students who share similar interests the opportunity to live and learn together. Living in a Learning Community allows students to explore an area of interest by taking linked courses together, building friendships, increasing access to faculty, and enhancing learning through co-curricular programs and activities both on-campus and throughout the city of Chicago. Students who are in Learning Communities feel more at home at Loyola, are more confident in their academic abilities, and achieve higher GPAs. Loyola’s Learning Communities are connected with the values of the University and the Core curriculum. Some examples of previous Learning Communities include:

- Arts and Society
- International Learning Community
- Multicultural Learning Community
- Leadership/Wellness Learning Community
- FYE First Year Experience

NOTICE TO DÉCOR

Students are responsible for the cost of any damage to their room or residence halls from designations here.

APPLICATIONS: Applications should be submitted by May 1 for sophomore consideration for housing.

UPPER-CLASS LIVING
LUC.edu/upperclasshalts

SOPHOMORES
Loyola provides a number of living options for sophomore students ranging from suite-style residence halls with private or semi-private baths to apartment-style residence halls. You will choose your room for sophomore year during the room selection process. That process begins in January of your freshman year.

JUNIORS/SENIORS
Typically, junior and senior students are looking for a more independent living experience. Upper-class students living in campus stay in apartment-style residences that facilitate smaller communities, private baths, and cooking facilities. Juniors and seniors are also able to live in off-campus housing in the area surrounding Loyola’s campuses.

DINING SERVICES
LUC.edu/dining - LUC.edu/compassioned

MILL PLANS
Dining. Service is a priority in conjunction with Residence Life and the Campus Card Office to provide meal plans for students living in on-campus residence halls. There are a variety of meal plan options to suit the varied living arrangements. Students select a meal plan when they sign their housing contract. Freshmen and sophomore students select from one of four "All Access" plans.

DINING DOLLARS
Dining Dollars are included in all "All Access" plans and are accepted as cash-value for all dining venues, including food courts, cafes, and on-campus convenience stores.

THE WELLNESS CENTER
LUC.edu/wellness

The college years are a time of transition and change for any young adult. It can be challenging to seek health care on your own for the first time and not have your “regular” health care provider. The Wellness Center staff members are experts in the health-related goals, needs, and problems of college students. They can provide you with the knowledge and skills for making positive choices that will last you a lifetime.

Whether you’re not feeling well, feel good and want to feel better, or feel great and just want to learn more, make use of the resources given to you by the Wellness Center at both the Lake Shore and Water Tower Campus. Residence Life staff are available 24 hours a day and are there to assist in emergencies or connect you with the appropriate resource. They are here to help you and are great at what they do, so, even if you don’t see them, just know they want to see you get better.

The Wellness Center offers a variety of services to help you enhance the overall living experience. Students select a number of services that best suit their needs and interests. The Wellness Center provides:

- Counseling
- Health service
- Health education
- Health promotion
- Sexual health
- Tobacco prevention
- Injury prevention
- Substance abuse
- Stress management
- Recognize the signs of abuse

THE WELLNESS CENTER is a source of information and support for all students, faculty, and staff. Some of the services available include:

- Assessment
- Education
- Prevention
- Referral

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES
LUC.edu/sac

With regard to housing, students requiring accommodations for housing or dining should contact Student Accessibility Center as soon as possible to register with that office and determine any accommodation needs.
LEARNING COMMUNITIES

LUC.edu/learningcommunity

Participating in a Learning Community provides students who share similar interests the opportunity to live and learn together. Living in a Learning Community allows students to explore an area of interest by taking linked courses together, building friendships, increasing access to faculty, and enhancing learning through engaging programs and activities both on campus and throughout the city of Chicago. Students who are in Learning Communities feel more at home at Loyola, are more confident in their academic abilities, and have higher GPAs. Loyola’s Learning Communities are connected with the values of the University and the Core curriculum. Some examples of previous Learning Communities include:

- Arts and Society/Loyola Arts and Society (ArtsFirst)
- Community Learning: Community (FYEO)
- Research (First-Year Research Experience)
- Leadership: Loyola Leadership Community
- Environmental Studies
- Early Childhood Education
- Political Science
- Peace Studies
- Social Work
- International Studies
- Multicultural Living Community
- Service and Faith

HOW TO APPLY FOR HOUSING

Applications should be submitted by May 1 to receive priority consideration for housing.

UPPER-CLASS LIVING

LUC.edu/housing/halls

SOPHOMORES

Loyola provides a number of living options for sophomore students ranging from suite-style residence halls with private or semi-private bath to apartment-style residence halls. You will choose your room for sophomore year during the room selection process. That process begins in January of your freshman year.

JUNIORS/SENIORS

Typically, junior and senior students are looking for a more independent style of living that provides a different community living and learning experience. Upper-class students living on campus stay in apartment-style residence halls that feature smaller communities, private baths, and cooking facilities. Juniors and seniors are also able to live off-campus in the area surrounding Loyola’s campuses.

DINING SERVICES

LUC.edu/dining - LUC.edu/campuscard

Meal Plans

Dining Services works in conjunction with Residence Life and the Campus Card Office to provide meal plans for students living in on-campus residence halls. There are a variety of meal options to enhance the overall living experience. Students select a meal plan when they sign their housing contract. Freshman and sophomore students select from one of four “All Access” plans.

Dining Dollars

Dining Dollars are included in all “All Access” plans and are accepted as cash toward the cost of meals, including food courts, cafes, and on-campus convenience stores.

THE WELLNESS CENTER

LUC.edu/wellness

The college years are a time of transition and change for any young adult. It can be challenging to seek health care on your own for the first time and not from your “regular” health care provider. The Wellness Center staff members are experts in the health-related goals, needs, and problems of college students. They can provide you with the knowledge and tools for making positive choices that will last you a lifetime.

Whether you’re feeling well, feel good and want to feel better, or feel great and just want to learn more, make use of the resources given to you by the Wellness Center at both the Lake Shore and Water Tower Campus. Residence Life staff are available 24 hours a day and are there to assist in emergencies or contact you with the appropriate resource. They are here to help you and are great at what they do, so never hesitate to seek help from Residence Life staff.

CAMPUS SAFETY

LUC.edu/safety

With myriad safety and awareness initiatives in place, Campus Safety is committed to crime prevention and the safety of all students, faculty, and staff. Some of the security measures in place include:

- Campus escorts (Effective campus lighting)
- Security patrols
- Loyola-Wide Systems
- Emergency phone points throughout the campus
- Emergency phones located throughout the residence halls
- Use of halls may vary from designations here
- All-Access Dining Facilities
- First-Year Residents
- FYEOnCampus

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

LUC.edu/disability

When applying for housing, students requiring accommodations for housing or dining should contact Student Accessibility Center as soon as possible to register with that office and determine any accommodation needs.
LEARNING COMMUNITIES
LUC.edu/learningcommunity

Participating in a Learning Community provides students who share similar interests the opportunity to live and learn together. Living in a Learning Community allows students to explore an area of interest by taking linked courses together, building friendships, increasing access to faculty, and enhancing learning through connecting programs and activities both on-campus and throughout the city of Chicago. Students who participate in Learning Communities feel more at home at Loyola, are more confident in their academic abilities, and achieve higher GPAs. Loyola’s Learning Communities are connected with the values of the University and the Core Curriculum. Some examples of previous Learning Communities include:

- Arts and Society
- International Learning Community
- Multicultural Learning Community
- Leadership
- Wellness Learning Community
- FYE First-Year Experience
- FYE Freshman Research Experience
- Service and Faith Community
- Community
- Multicultural
- Arts and Society

HOW TO APPLY FOR HOUSING

Applications will be submitted by May 1 to receive priority consideration for housing.

UPPER-CLASS LIVING
LUC.edu/upperclass

SOPHOMORES
Loyola provides a number of living options for sophomore students ranging from suite-style residence halls with private or semi-private baths to apartment-style residence halls. You will choose your room for sophomore year during the room selection process. That process begins in January of your freshman year.

JUNIORS/ SENIORS
Typically, junior and senior students are looking for a more independent style of living that provides a different community living and learning experience. Upper class students living on campus may stay in apartment-style residences that feature smaller communities, private baths, and cooking facilities. Juniors and seniors are also able to live in off-campus housing in the area surrounding Loyola’s campuses.

DINING SERVICES
LUC.edu/dining – LUC.edu/compensated

MALL PLAN
Dining Services works in conjunction with Residence Life and the Campus Card Office to provide meal plans for students living in on-campus residence halls. There are a variety of meal plan options to enhance the overall living experience. Students select a meal plan when they sign their housing contract. Freshmen and sophomore students select from one of four "All Access" plans.

DINING DOLLARS
Dining Dollars are included in all "All Access" plans and are accepted as cash-replaceable for all dining venues, including food courts, cafés, and on-campus convenience stores.

THE WELLNESS CENTER
LUC.edu/wellness

The college years are a time of transition and change for any young adult. It can be challenging to seek health care on your own for the first time and not truly know what is considered "regular" health care. The Wellness Center staff members are experts in the health-related goals, needs, and problems of college students. They can provide you with the knowledge and skills for making positive choices that will last you a lifetime. Whether you’re not feeling well, feel good and want to feel better, or feel great and just want to learn more, make use of the resources given to you by the Wellness Center at both the Lake Shore and Water Tower Campus. Residence Life staff are available 24 hours a day and are there to assist in emergencies or connect you with the appropriate resource. They are there to help you and are great at what they do, so don’t hesitate to seek help from Residence Life staff.

CAMPUS SAFETY
LUC.edu/safety

With myriad safety and awareness initiatives in place, Campus Safety is connected to crime prevention and the safety of all students, faculty, and staff. Some of the security resources in place include:

- Emergency phone call boxes
- Department of Public Safety
- Emergency phone call boxes located in areas of high pedestrian density
- Blue light security phones on both campuses
- Emergency phone call boxes in off-campus residence halls

ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES
LUC.edu/sac

Applying for housing students requiring accommodations for housing or dining should contact Student Accessibility Center as soon as possible to register with that office and determine any accommodation needs.
COMMUNITY AND CONVENIENCE

By living on campus, you’ll have the opportunity to experience what many Loyola graduates reflect on as one of their favorite memories from college—living in the residence halls. You’ll have easy access to the wide variety of campus resources, from the library to your academic advisor, simply by living on campus makes it that much easier to meet new people, get involved, and focus on your studies.

FIRST-YEAR TRANSITION

Getting involved in campus and city activities will help you feel at home as a Loyola student from the start. We encourage you to take advantage of the numerous University-planned events on campus. Or, you may choose to explore Chicago by attending a sports event, theatre or street festival, or by visiting a museum with classmates. You can also help others to succeed through various community service projects. Experiences like these, which follow the Jesuit model of developing the whole person, will broaden your college education beyond what you learn in the classroom.

One of the great things about Loyola is that it’s large enough to provide you with all the services of a large urban university, but small enough to give you personal guidance and one-on-one support to maximize your success.

LOYOLA’S RESIDENCE HALLS ARE HOME TO MORE THAN 4,800 RESIDENTIAL STUDENTS.

ROOM AND BOARD RATES

On-campus living at Loyola gives you the opportunity to be part of a positive living environment in comfortable surroundings conducive to the pursuit of academic excellence and service to others. You’ll experience a residential community supported by the Department of Residence Life, which works collaboratively with faculty, staff, and other students to provide programs, services, and activities that promote intellectual, social, spiritual, and physical growth.

Loyola University Chicago admits students without regard to their race, color, sex, age, national or ethnic origin, religion, sexual orientation, ancestry, college or other prior academic training, gender identity, or sexual orientation. "Race" and "national or ethnic origin" are specifically protected categories. Loyola University Chicago does not discriminate against individuals on the basis of disability. Loyola University Chicago is an equal opportunity employer.

Research shows that students living on campus report a smoother adjustment to the college experience, become involved in organizations, participate in sponsored events, and are more satisfied with their college experience overall.

ON-CAMPUS LIVING

Loyola University Chicago
COMMUNITY AND CONVENIENCE

By living on campus, you’ll have the opportunity to experience what many Loyola graduates reflect on as one of their favorite memories from college—living in the residence halls. You’ll have easy access to the wide variety of campus resources, from the library to your academic advisor. Living on campus makes it that much easier to meet new people, get involved, and focus on your classes.

FIRST-YEAR TRANSITION

Getting involved on campus and city activities will help you feel at home as a Loyola student from the start. We encourage you to take advantage of the numerous University-planned events on campus. Or, you may choose to explore Chicago by attending a sports event, festival, or visiting a museum with classmates. You can also help others in need through various community service projects. Experiences like these, which follow the Jesuit model of developing the whole person, will broaden your collegiate education beyond what you learn in the classroom.

LOYOLA’S RESIDENCE HALLS ARE HOME TO MORE THAN 4,800 RESIDENTIAL STUDENTS.

ON-CAMPUS LIVING

Living on campus at Loyola gives you the opportunity to be part of a positive living environment in comfortable surroundings conducive to the pursuit of academic excellence and service to others. You’ll experience a residential community supported by the Department of Residence Life, which works collaboratively with faculty, staff, and other students to provide programs, services, and activities that promote intellectual, social, spiritual, and physical growth.